Investigator 563 - Teria

The Investigator 563 (18'6") is a small trailer yacht, which can be used as a pocket cruiser. It's a bit heavier than a Princess 18 at around 900 kg dry weight fully rigged and displaces about 750 kgs in the water. The boat has a shoal draft keel and draws 1'9" (53 cm) with the center-board up. This may make it a tad too deep for easy launching or beaching but it does allow yacht-like self righting ability in the event of a knock down, the 368 kg of lead ballast in the keel ensures this
